

EMMA FREDERICA SOUTHWICK EVANS

LEHI Centennial History 1850-1950

A daughter of William and Savina Larson Southwick, Emma Frederica Southwick Evans, was born in Lehi November 1, 1867. She was baptized July 1, 1877, and like all Latter-day Saint children, she grew up helping in all organizations of the church. She was especially active in the choir. With her sister, Sarah, she was always willing to render vocal duets at various occasions .

January 29, 1890, she was married to Morgan Evans and became a real helpmate in every sense of the word. She was truly a loving woman. Her husband, children, and grandchildren were her first interest. Her chief pleasure was keeping a home.

Her friends were many, for she was of a disposition and character that drew people to her. She was active in the Relief Society for many years, and also served faithfully on the Old Folks Committee.

A prominent worker of the Service Star Legion, she served as secretary and treasurer. For seventeen years after her husband's death, she was both father and mother to her children. In her spare time, she with, her sister, Sarah, spent many hours sewing temple clothes, a task they both loved.

She died February 18, 1929, firm in her belief that she would be reunited with her husband and parents.
